

Instruction: This problem is an open problem, contestants can choose a research direction to fulfill the final paper.

Problem C: Forecast of Geological Disasters

Geological disasters process in the effect of natural or human factors and lead a great damage to the human life and property. In the movie "2012" we see that the year 2012 is the end of the world. Looking back the past few years, many countries on Earth has undergone a variety of geological disasters such as volcanic eruptions, tsunamis, torrential rains, typhoons. These disasters have caused casualties and property losses. A research direction is proposed to be completed. Please write a modeling paper based on the content of geological disasters.